

Minnesota Multicounty, Multitype Library Systems
2016

MINNESOTA MULTITYPE LIBRARY SYSTEMS

The seven multicounty, multitype library systems function as an intermediary between all types of libraries, ensuring that resources are shared and cooperation occurs among all library types, including academic libraries, public libraries, school libraries, and special libraries in Minnesota. Through library cooperation and resource sharing, Minnesotans receive the best library service possible, in the most efficient manner. Each multicounty, multitype system is as unique as the libraries they serve.

The multicounty, multitype library systems in Minnesota are:

Arrowhead
Central Minnesota Libraries Exchange (CMLE)
Metronet
Northern Lights Library Network (NLLN)
Southwest Area Multicounty Multitype Interlibrary Exchange (SAMMIE)
Southeast Library System (SELS)
Traverse de Sioux Library Cooperative (TdS)

The multicounty, multitype systems are mandated by Minnesota Statute 134.351 and funded by the Minnesota Legislature through the Minnesota Department of Education.
